The screenshot shows the Visual Studio IDE with the following components:

- Code Editor: Displays the `Application.gvb` file. The code includes a `StartupUri` property, a `MainWindow` window, and a `Run` button. The `Run` button is highlighted with a red dot, indicating the location of the exception.
- Exception Dialog: A modal dialog box titled "ObjectDisposedException occurred" is displayed over the code editor. It contains the same text as the first block, including the exception type, additional information, troubleshooting tips, and actions.
- Output Window: Located at the bottom, it shows the output of the application. The output includes the text "Map Suite Trace: GoogleMapsLayer Request Image Count: 2" repeated multiple times.
- IntelliTrace Window: Located on the right side, it shows a list of events. The events include "File Access" and "File Close" operations. The last event in the list is "Exception Thrown: 'Cannot access a closed Stream'".
